Billy Blue has graduated… Hello University!

We are excited to announce that Billy Blue College of Design is partnering with Torrens University Australia. From trimester one 2016, Billy Blue students can also gain a degree from Torrens University Australia.

What does this mean?

This represents a big step for Billy Blue College of Design and a big win for all current and future students. Students will now graduate with a university degree, which means greater recognition for your skills and greater opportunity for employment in Australia as well as overseas. And as Torrens University is part of Laureate International Universities, students will be connected with over 80 universities worldwide, so you can learn from design experts around the world and study at partner institutions, including the exceptionally prestigious Domus Academy in Milan and Santa Fe University of Art and Design, among others.
